

Paragraph On Nature In 100 Words

Nature encompasses the intricate balance between the physical environment and all living organisms, including humans. From the towering trees to the gentle breeze, nature sustains life in myriad ways. It provides essential resources like oxygen, water, and food, nurturing every living being on Earth. The ecosystem, comprising plants, animals, and microorganisms, works harmoniously to maintain this delicate balance. Despite its abundance, nature is fragile and requires our care and protection. As stewards of the environment, it is our responsibility to cherish and preserve nature for the well-being of current and future generations. Let us embrace the beauty and significance of nature, safeguarding it for a sustainable future.
